EXPERIENCE

Candle AAC, Remote

Resource Developer, October 2022 – Current

Responsible for creating lesson materials and adaptive content for AAC students with disabilities.

Private home, London

Educator/ care giver, October 2021 – Current

I worked very closely for a year with Nadal, a teenager with Cerebral Palsy, in his home, as a private educator. I was responsible for teaching him all his GCSE subjects. I also cared for him and helped him with daily physiotherapy and personal activities. After a year I moved out of his house and continue to work with him remotely. I create adapted lessons for him and tutor him and his sister maths via zoom.

Self-Employed, Remote

Teacher, August 2021 – Current

Responsible for teaching children English and Maths via an online platform. Responsible for creating my own lesson content as well as managing my schedule and liaising directly with parents. I also create marketing materials to promote myself on social media platforms to recruit new students.

WHALES ENGLISH, REMOTE

English Teacher, December 2019 – August 2021

Responsible for teaching Chinese children English via an online platform. Children are aged 5-12 and therefore require lots of energy and creativity. The lessons are in 50 minute slots.

MR J'S ENGLISH SCHOOL, PEKANBARU

English Teacher, May 2018 – September 2018

I volunteered at an English school in Pekanbaru, Indonesia. I was responsible for teaching English to high school children. The lessons were 1 hour each and I was required to create lessons plans from scratch. Class abilities were mixed.

LANDI, REMOTE

English Teacher, February 2018 – February 2020

Responsible for teaching Chinese children English via an online platform. Children are aged 5-12 and therefore require lots of energy and creativity. The lessons are in 25 minute slots.

SEARCH22, LONDON

Recruitment Consultant, August 2015 – August 2016

My main responsibility was to resource candidates. I used LinkedIn to find suitable candidates and would then directly approach them. I was also responsible for the redesign of the website, design & printing of new business cards, setting up a new database and training of the new placement year student.
